Botanic Gardens Plant Sale, May 6-7

This annual sale offers great plants and helpful gardening advice.

Plant Sale

A variety of unique plants make this annual spring event the place to be for gardening enthusiasts.

APRIL 26, 2005 -- The 56th annual Plant Sale is a gardener's delight that offers hundreds of varieties of plants for sale at the Denver Botanic Gardens. The sale takes place Friday, May 6 from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m., and Saturday, May 7, from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m, with members-only hours from 8:30 - 10 a.m. both days.

Over 65,000 unique plants will be for sale throughout the Gardens including perennials, annuals, herbs, vegetables, roses, water plants, orchids, patio baskets, rock alpine plants, Plant Select® plants, Xeriscape plants and much more. Horticulture experts will be on hand to answer questions and assist shoppers in choosing the right plants for their garden.

Hours

Friday, May 7
10 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Magicians and other entertainers will be on hand both days to provide children's activities.

Saturday, May 8
10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Shoppers are encouraged to bring wagons or carts to transport their purchases, and plant valets will be available to help load plants into cars. Additional parking will be available at the National Jewish Medical and Research Center on 14th Avenue and Jackson Street. Shuttle buses will run from 8 a.m. - 7:30 p.m. on Friday, and from 8 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Admission

Free

The Gardens will be closed on Thursday, May 5 to prepare for the sale. Admission to the sale is free, and all proceeds benefit the Gardens.
